Let's Read!

The Tale of Toast, Lasagna, and Lucas

Lucas was a teenager who loved playing basketball. One late afternoon, after a hard practice, he returned home, stomach rumbling with hunger. Walking into the kitchen, he scanned the room and opened the refrigerator. Inside, he found some leftover lasagna from last night's dinner. "Perfect!" he thought.

The Tale of Toast, Lasagna, and Lucas

He grabbed the dish of lasagna and placed it in the microwave. He set the timer, and as the microwave hummed, Lucas waited for his meal to heat up. While waiting, he had a fun idea. He spotted a loaf of bread sitting on the counter and decided to make toast.

The Tale of Toast, Lasagna, and Lucas

He selected two slices of bread and placed them in the toaster. The toaster warmed up, changing the bread slices from soft to crispy. He added a little garlic and a sprinkle of oil on the toasted bread, creating a simple, tasty garlic toast.

The Tale of Toast, Lasagna, and Lucas

Just as he finished with his toast, the microwave beeped. Lucas took out the warm lasagna, steam rising from the top. He set his hot lasagna on a plate and grabbed his crispy garlic toast, ready to enjoy his quick dinner.

The Tale of Toast, Lasagna, and Lucas

It tasted delicious, the lasagna was warm, and the garlic toast was crunchy. Lucas was happy with his fast meal idea. Before he went to bed, he remembered to put some water bottles in the freezer. Tomorrow, after basketball, he would have a cold drink ready. He realized that kitchen appliances, like the microwave and toaster, were great for making easy meals.
