Level 4 - Unit 14
Hospitals - Lesson 1

Vocabulary

Hospitals - Vocabulary

emergency: a dangerous situation, such as an accident, that needs immediate action (noun)

There was a bad accident, and people were hurt, so we called 911 for the emergency.

Hospitals - Vocabulary

injury: harm or damage done to a person's or an animal's body (noun)

She got bit by a wild animal and has a serious injury on her arm.

Hospitals - Vocabulary

examine: to check or study something carefully (verb)

When you are sick, the doctor will examine you to see what is wrong.

Hospitals - Vocabulary

bandage: a long, narrow piece of cloth that is tied around an injury (noun)

He cut his hand, so the nurse put a bandage on it.

The ER Buzz: More than Just Bee Stings!

Imagine this: You're watching your favorite soccer player on TV. He's about to score when, suddenly, he trips and falls! Oh no! He might need to rush to a special place in the hospital. Can you guess where? That's right – the Emergency Room (or ER for short)!

The ER Buzz: More than Just Bee Stings!

The ER is like a beehive. It's always buzzing! People come here when they have an "emergency," which means they need medical help fast. They first enter the waiting room, a place with chairs where patients and families sit. They're "waiting" to see a doctor or nurse.

The ER Buzz: More than Just Bee Stings!

But why do people come to the ER? Some might have "cuts" – ouch! Maybe they were cooking and accidentally cut their finger. Or they might have "broken bones" from falling off their bicycles. Whatever the "injury," the ER is ready to help!

The ER Buzz: More than Just Bee Stings!

After waiting, a nurse or doctor will "admit" the patient. This means they take the patient from the waiting room to another special place called the exam room. In the exam room, doctors examine the injuries. They check how deep cuts are or if bones are really broken.

The ER Buzz: More than Just Bee Stings!

But here's a fun fact: Not all visits to the ER are super scary. Some people come for small problems. Maybe a tiny cut or a little ankle twist. They get a bandage, maybe a fun sticker, and soon they're all better!

The ER Buzz: More than Just Bee Stings!

Remember our soccer player? Well, after a quick trip to the ER, he found out it was just a small injury. He just needs a bandage and a little rest, and soon he'll be back on the field! So, the next time you hear about the ER, you'll know it's a place full of action, helping hands, and quick fixes for all kinds of injuries.

Let's do Grammar!
