

Super English

Level 4 - Unit 14

Hospitals - Lesson 4

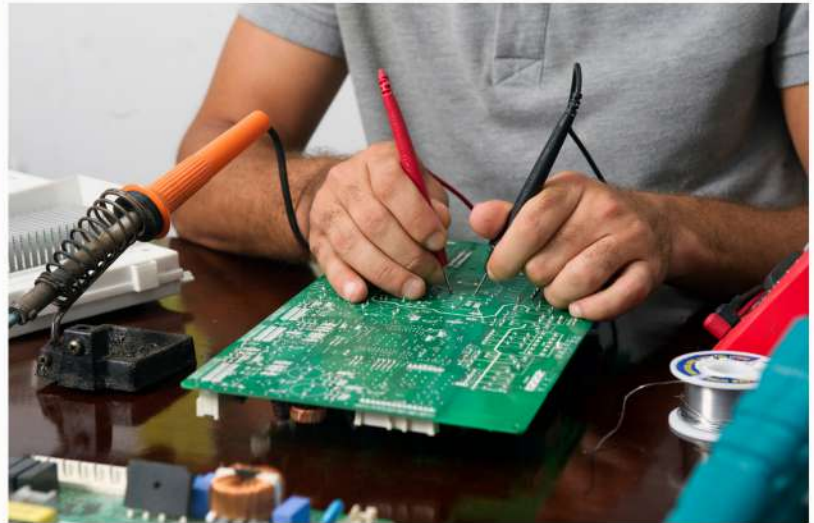

Vocabulary

Hospitals - Vocabulary

technician: a worker trained with special skills, especially in a lab or with technology (noun)

The lab technician used a machine to check someone's blood.

Hospitals - Vocabulary

image: a picture of somebody/something seen in a mirror, on a camera, television, computer, phone, etc. (noun)

The camera captures clear images even at night.

Hospitals - Vocabulary

powerful: very strong or able to do a lot (adjective)

The storm was powerful and knocked over some trees.

Hospitals - Vocabulary

sample: a small part of something taken from a larger group and used to provide information about the group (noun)

The store gave free samples of sausage that customers could try before buying a full package.

Let's Read!

A Day at the Hospital: The Awesome World of Tests!

Hey there! Ever wondered how doctors find problems inside your body? Let's dive into the hospital world and explore the cool tests they perform!

A Day at the Hospital: The Awesome World of Tests!

X-ray: This isn't just a letter in the alphabet; it's a super cool way doctors can look inside your body. With an x-ray, they can see your bones and make sure everything's in place. X-ray technicians make sure you are safe while they take these amazing pictures!

A Day at the Hospital: The Awesome World of Tests!

Ultrasound: Now, this is awesome. Using sound waves, doctors and technicians can get images of the inside of your body. It's especially famous for showing pictures of babies inside their moms. Imagine using sound to "see" – how cool is that?

A Day at the Hospital: The Awesome World of Tests!

MRI: MRI Technologists are the ones you'll meet here. MRI stands for Magnetic Resonance Imaging. Sounds fancy, right? It's a powerful tool that gives super clear pictures of what's happening inside you, from muscles to your brain. It's like having a window to see everything inside your body!

A Day at the Hospital: The Awesome World of Tests!

Lab: This is where the action happens. Scientists and technicians take samples, maybe a bit of blood or something else, and test it. They can learn so much from these tests. They are experts at finding the tiny things that we can see!

A Day at the Hospital: The Awesome World of Tests!

So, next time you're at the hospital and you hear about these tests, remember: they're not just boring medical stuff. They're part of the awesome technology world that helps us understand our bodies better. Who knows, maybe you'll find it so cool, you'll want to work there one day! Stay curious and keep learning!

Let's do Grammar!

Enough vs. Plenty

Read each scenerio and and answer if they have 'enough, not enough, or plenty.'

1. Lucy invited 5 friends to her birthday party. Her mom baked 30 cupcakes.
2. Mike and his dad went camping. They packed 2 liters of water for their 3-day trip.
3. Jenny started her art class. She brought 1 pencil, but the project required 5 different colors.
4. Tom has 2 goldfish. He feeds them 10 pellets of fish food each day.

Phonics

Suffix 'ous'

The suffix 'ous' makes the 'us' sound and means 'full of'

ous

furious

gaseous

gelatinous

odious

ominous

ostentatious

ous

outrageous scrupulous ponderous

precious slandorous

stupendous

Super English

BYE!

See you
Next time!