

Super English

Level 4 - Unit 16
Transport - Lesson 4

Transport - Vocabulary

steer: to make something go the direction you want it to go (verb)

She had to steer the car carefully and not hit the cones.

Transport - Vocabulary

handlebars: the steering bar of a bicycle or motorcycle (noun)

He gripped the handlebars tightly as he rode down the hill.

Transport - Vocabulary

pedal: something you push with your feet to make a bike or other vehicle move or stop (n) to move a bike (v)

She has pink pedals to match the rest of her bike.

Transport - Vocabulary

chain: a long series of connected metal links (noun)

He oiled the bike chain, so it would move smoothly.

Let's Read!

Super English

Biking the Pine Hill Trails

Nick and his friends were buzzing with excitement for their mountain biking adventure. The Pine Hill Trails were calling them, famous for their winding paths and exciting jumps.

Each boy had his bike ready. Nick's was a bright red one with tough handlebars and rugged tires. "Time for some fun!" Leo shouted, always keen to start the action.

Biking the Pine Hill Trails

Pedaling up the hill was hard but thrilling. “We’ve got this!” Alex encouraged, his voice full of energy.

As they reached the top, they stopped for a quick break. The view from here was amazing – green hills stretching far. “Wow, this is awesome!” Nick said, grinning.

Biking the Pine Hill Trails

Now came the downhill – the most exciting part. They zoomed down, feeling the wind rush past. Nick gripped his handlebars, steering carefully on the twisty path.

Suddenly, Nick's bike made a strange noise. "Uh-oh," he muttered. His chain had come off! They all stopped. "No problem," Leo said, "Let's fix it." Together, they worked on the bike, pushing the chain back onto the gears.

Biking the Pine Hill Trails

“Back in action!” Nick exclaimed, relieved. They continued their ride, now a little more cautious but still having a blast.

Next, they found some small jumps. They pedaled hard and jumped over, feeling like they were flying for a few seconds. “That was epic!” Nick laughed, his heart racing.

They tackled more turns and raced over wooden bridges. Every bump and turn brought a new thrill.

Biking the Pine Hill Trails

Finally, they reached the trail's end. They were tired but happy. "That was the best ride ever, even with the chain trouble," Nick said, high-fiving his friends.

As they rode back, chatting and laughing, Nick thought about how cool it was to share this adventure with his friends. He couldn't wait for their next biking day.

Let's do Grammar!

Find the Mistakes!

Read each sentence and correct the mistakes. There may be more than one mistake.

1. She is gone to school early today.
2. The cat play with the dog every day.
3. He don't like apples, but he enjoys oranges.
4. They was happy about the news.
5. I eating dinner now, but I'm not very hungry.
6. She doesn't runs very fast.
7. He runs fast at the mornings to catch early bus.
8. The dog will barks loudly at people.
9. It rains yesterday when we planned to go out.
10. They is going to the market to buy fruit.

Consonant-le

A consonant-le syllable is a final syllable with one consonant followed by l and silent e zle

frazzle

drizzle

fizzle

nozzle

guzzle

muzzle

tle

little beetle

battle

cattle rattle

kettle

Super English

See you Next time!

A large, blank white rectangular area, likely intended for writing or drawing, framed by a light brown border.