Where Did Pop Come From?

Think pop music just appeared one day? Nope! It started in the 1950s in the USA and the UK. But it didn't come from nowhere—pop is a mix of many elements from other music styles. A little rock, a little dance, a little soul—it's like the smoothie of music! Because pop keeps mixing in new styles, it never gets old. That's why it evolves all the time—and why it's still the #1 genre in the world!

1. Why does pop music keep changing?
2. Why do you think pop is so popular around the world?

Rap Talks, Hip-Hop Moves

1. How did hip-hop evolve from rap?
2. What do you think makes rap and hip-hop cool?

In the 1980s, something loud, bold, and honest came out of the ghetto—rap music! It wasn't about singing; it was about telling the truth with rhymes and beats. Life was tough, and rap said it loud. Then came hip-hop, which added cool sounds, fun beats, and dance moves. BOOM! A music explosion! Now, hip-hop is everywhere. It has influence on fashion, slang, and even TikTok. And thanks to the internet, it changes faster than a remix!

Asher: Not much. I'm just reading an article about famous singers.

Levi: Oh, what is it saying about them?

Asher: It's talking about the most famous singers in history.

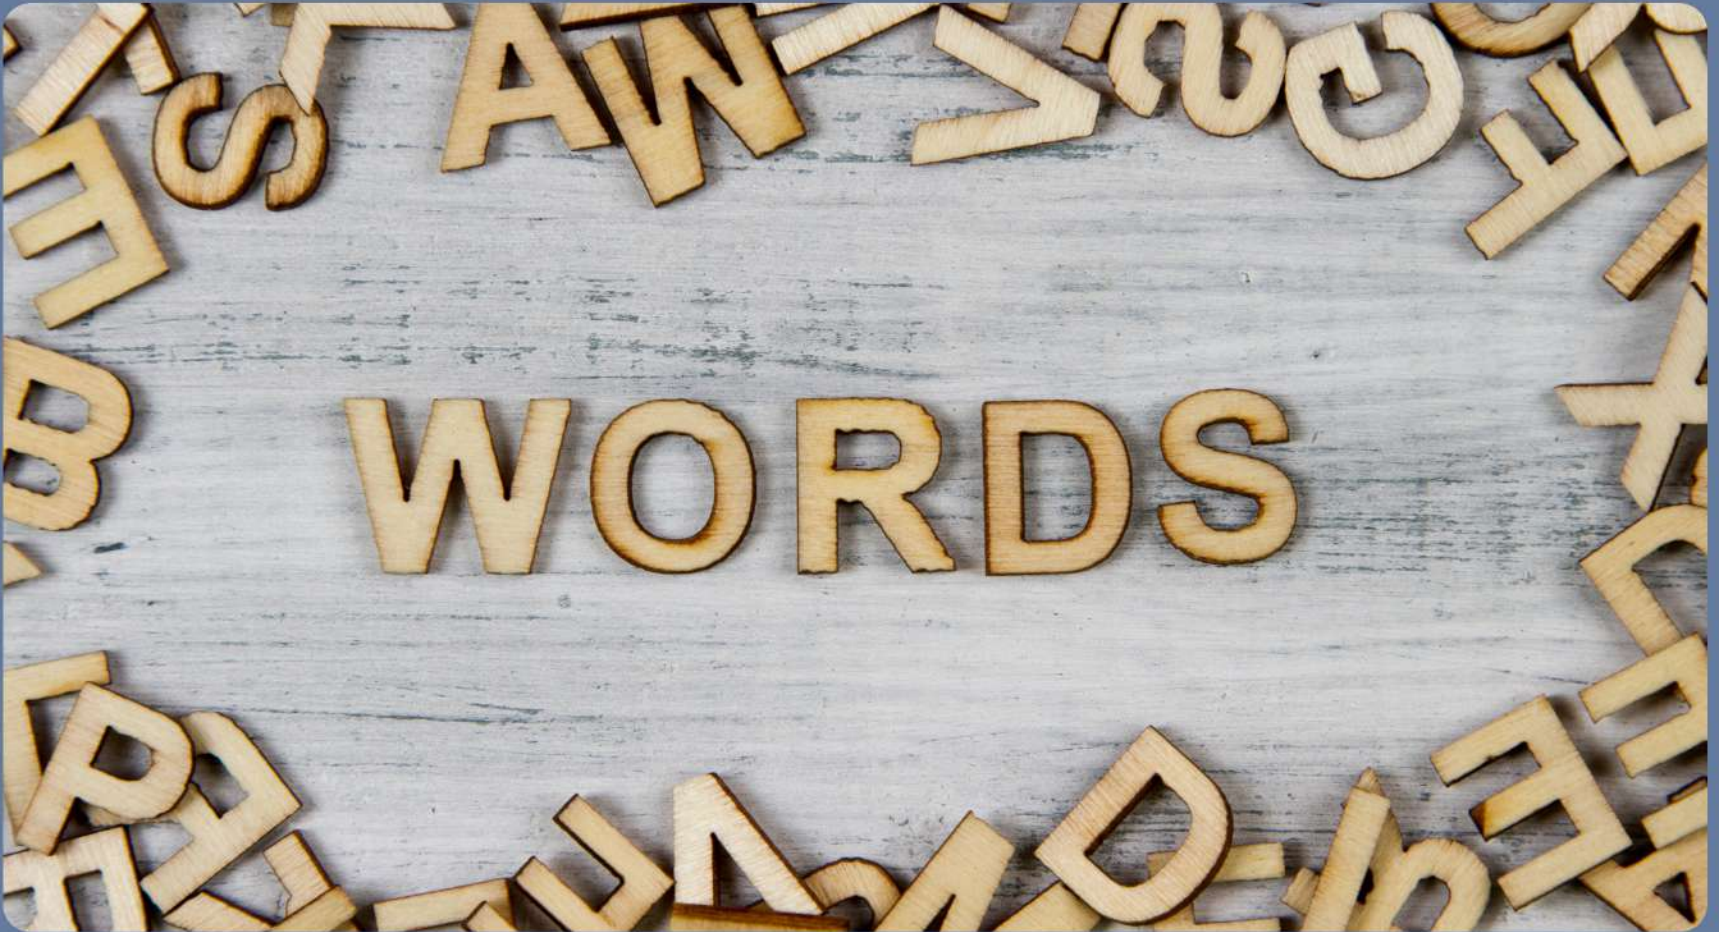

Levi: Whom do they list as number one?

Asher: They say the Beatles are, but I don't know them very well.
