All About Movies

Movies are popular everywhere, and many people love going to the cinema with friends or family. Making a movie takes time and money. Writers first create a script with all the words and scenes. The director turns the script into a movie by choosing the cast of actors and actresses. The director also guides the filming, decides how scenes look, and tells everyone what to do. When the movie is finished, people around the world can watch it in theaters while enjoying popcorn and having a fun time.
