An Ocean Adventure

Max, Sam, and Lila were three best friends who enjoy going on adventures together. One day, they rode in a small submarine under the ocean. They were excited to explore this underwater habitat. The ocean was full of colorful plants and many animals swimming around them. The friends looked through the windows and smiled as fish swam by. It felt like a fun and exciting adventure under the sea.

1. What do they ride under the ocean?
2. Is the ocean a fun place to explore? Why or why not?

Clownfish and Sea Anemones

First, the friends saw some bright clownfish hiding in a sea anemone (ah-neh-muh-nee). The anemone helped keep the clownfish safe from other animals. In return, the clownfish cleaned the anemone by eating its leftovers. Max said it was cool to see animals helping each other. Sam and Lila agreed and watched carefully as the clownfish swam in and out of their safe ocean home.

1. How do the clownfish help the anemone?
2. Why is helping each other important?
